Dear Peter

We have been using cinema advertising for well over 20 years, and although we have experimented with other forms of advertising, cinema is by far the only medium that we receive great feedback.

We believe that cinema advertising is so effective because you have a captive audience, and you can offer a variety of options within your presentation, whether it be slide, moving picture or an audible presentation. You can be as creative as you want to get the best results for your company.

We will always recommend the cinema as we believe it is very good value with the ability to target the audience you wish to choose.

We will continue to support Peter and his team at Screen Vistas and appreciate the boost to our business that we know we are getting from advertising with them.

Yours faithfully,
